This message is timely and essential!

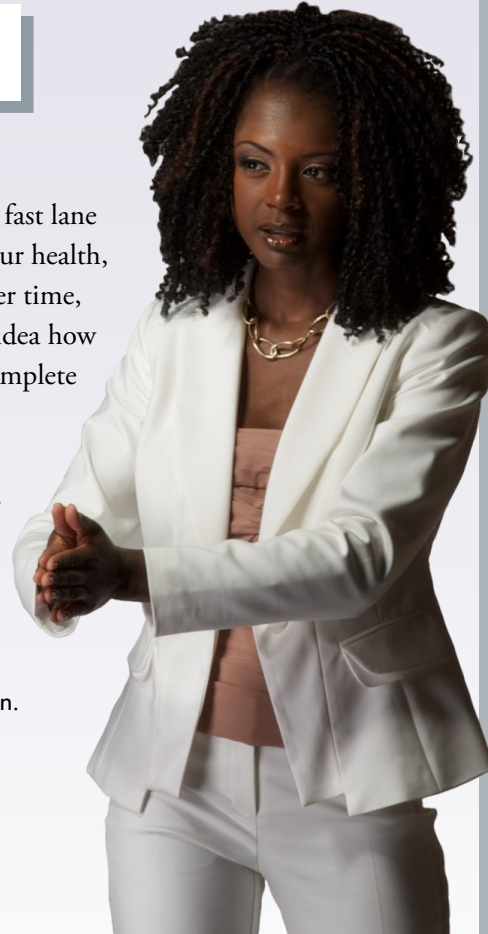

Program Description

In the mad dash to succeed, many of us find ourselves in the fast lane going in the wrong direction in our careers, compromising our health, relationships, passion and personal satisfaction for work. Over time, we find ourselves bored, burned out, or unfulfilled, with no idea how to fix it. Whether finding your “right direction” requires a complete personal or professional u-turn or a mere shift in direction, Renessa offers insights from her book, Fast Lane, Wrong Direction, to help you strategically design your work and life. Coupled with her breakthrough new tool, the Success & Happiness Test, this interactive program serves as an annual “tune-up”, inspiring people to take greater ownership of their career, fulfillment and personal life design.

– Available as a 90-minute interactive discussion.
